

Dr. Green, who worked closely with my mom and dad, fully knows the struggle for justice nationally and internationally. This book will appeal to anyone interested in the untold stories of heroism during the Civil Rights era. It is also a must-read for those who want to understand the connection between education and social justice.

—Martin Luther King III, Civil Rights leader and activist

There is an ongoing struggle within society that must yield to what is right: equality, which in turn, rests on knowledge. To understand the platform of today's civil rights, please read Dr. Robert L. Green's book, At the Crossroads of Fear and Freedom.

—The Honorable Judge Damon J. Keith, United States Circuit Judge

From life-threatening voting rights marches with Martin Luther King Jr. to arduous campaigns that desegregated America's schools to his current role as a scholar and champion for educational equity, Robert L. Green has been a fearless agent of change and an eyewitness to history. His amazing story helps us understand how to proceed when we're at the junction of fear and freedom.

—Ambassador Andrew J. Young, diplomat

In the annals of the Civil Rights movement, Robert Green is an authentic hero whose courage and principles helped inspire the nation. As a brilliant academic, he has been a pioneer in the battle for educational equality. In At the Crossroads of Fear and Freedom, Robert Green has made an indispensable contribution to history that will inspire the generations that follow him in the never-ending struggle for racial equality and social justice.

—William vanden Heuvel, Founder and Chair Emeritus, Franklin and Eleanor Roosevelt Institute

ROBERT L. GREEN, dean and professor emeritus and distinguished alumnus, Michigan State University, is a scholar and activist on issues related to urban schools and educational equity.

RACE RELATIONS / MEMOIR / EDUCATION POLICY & REFORM

 MICHIGAN STATE
UNIVERSITY PRESS
MSUPRESS.ORG

ISBN 978-1-61186-193-8 $39.95

 53995
9 781611 861938

Green
At the Crossroads of Fear and Freedom

At the Crossroads of Fear and Freedom

The Fight for Social and Educational Justice

Robert L. Green

